Founder’s Message
By Dr. Jacqueline Elliot, President & CEO, PUC National

As we approach the end of yet another school year, I am filled with a deep sense of appreciation and gratitude to have the privilege of doing work that is making a difference in the lives of thousands of students and families. I am also immensely grateful to have the honor of working alongside so many outstanding professionals dedicated to the same mission and purpose.

As hundreds more PUC graduates prepare to move on to the next part of their life’s journey, it is my hope that they will carry the legacy of PUC with them throughout their lifetimes – a legacy that most importantly will include doing things that will leave our world better than the way they found it. PUC’s Commitment #3 epitomizes this concept very clearly – Students commit to uplift our communities now and forever. Conceptually, this should include not only our local communities but also our state, our nation and our global community. Our PUC graduates are facing a nation and a world that are fraught with immense challenges. But these challenges present them with opportunities for incredible ingenuity and creativity that I believe has thankfully been cultivated in them by amazing PUC teachers and school leaders.

If we are to overcome the challenges we face today, PUC’s Commitment #3 must in fact apply to all of us. This commitment does in fact embody the essence of what the founding of our schools was all about. On a daily basis we must strive to uplift our communities through multiple ways that include words, deeds, and actions – from the words we say to other people to the actions we take to ensure social justice to protecting the legislation that allows PUC schools to remain in existence to what we do on a daily basis to save our environment, the list goes on and on.

As we approach the summer, it is my hope that we will approach it with a heightened alertness and sense of urgency to honor and fulfill PUC’s Commitment #3 every single day keeping in mind the challenges we are confronting in our local communities, in our city, in our state, in our nation, and as the human race on this earth.
PUC Schools Recognized by U.S. News & World News Report!

Submitted by Pete Frias, Director of Media Communications, PUC National

We are proud to share with you the news that four PUC schools were among the top 8% of high schools in the country, according to U.S. News & World Report. The rankings put PUC Community Charter Early College High in the top 5 best charter high schools in Los Angeles Unified. The rankings also put PUC Community Charter Early College High and PUC Lakeview Charter High in the top 15 best charter high schools in Los Angeles Unified.

PUC Schools have been honored consistently over the past several years with placement on the prestigious list. In all of the graduating classes at PUC Schools, approximately 96% commit to enter college or university. Also, while the latest district projections show that less than half of L.A. Unified’s Class of 2019 are eligible for the state’s public universities, 96% of PUC’s graduates this year will graduate UC and CSU-ready.

The 2019 U.S. News Best High Schools ranks over 17,000 public high schools out of a review of more than 23,000 nationwide. U.S. News judges schools by six indicators: college readiness, college curriculum breadth, math and reading proficiency, math and reading performance, underserved student performance and graduation rates.

Here are some of PUC’s highlights:

- PUC Community Charter Early College High was ranked in the top 2% of high schools in the country and top 3% in California!
- PUC Community Charter Early College High was ranked within the top 100 schools in California!
- PUC Lakeview Charter High was ranked in the top 5% of high schools in the country and top 6% in California!
- PUC Triumph Charter High was ranked in the top 7% of high schools in the country and top 9% in California!
- PUC eCALS (Early College Academy for Leaders and Scholars) was ranked in the top 8% of high schools in the country and top 10% in California!

PUC Community Charter Middle School Celebrates 20 Years!

Written by Dr. Jacqueline Elliot, President & CEO, PUC National

Community Charter Middle School, opened in 1999, was founded by Dr. Jacqueline Elliot, four teachers, and 100 founding students and their families. This year, the school is celebrating its 20th birthday. The development and opening of the school, which was the first startup charter in the San Fernando Valley, was followed by the media.

As the first startup charter school in the San Fernando Valley, Dr. Elliot and the founding group faced and overcame immense challenges to get the school authorized and find a facility. In fact, when it became apparent that their facility would not be ready on time for the school’s opening, Dr. Elliot convinced her alma mater, CSUN, to provide 4 classrooms for the 100 sixth grade students until their facility was ready. LAUSD board member David Tokofsky then convinced a large bus company to provide free transportation for the 100 students to CSUN and back to the NE San Fernando Valley each day.

The students ended up spending 6 weeks on the CSUN campus and the effect was so profoundly positive in inspiring the students with a goal to graduate from high school and attend college, that Dr. Elliot decided that all future incoming 6th graders would go to CSUN for one week in order to become immersed in the college vision, before beginning their middle school journey.

Community Charter Middle School became very popular very quickly which led to Dr. Elliot founding 4 more middle schools for the community. In the summer of 2018, six-hundred incoming sixth grade students from the NE San Fernando Valley PUC middle schools attended CSUN for one week and became inspired to go to college as has been the case with the preceding sixth grade students over the course of the past 20 years.

PUC Community Charter Middle School joyously celebrated its 20th year in existence on Friday, April 26, with a ceremony that included student dance performances, guests speakers, and certificate presentations from representatives of local elected officials.
PUC Schools Named Top Public Schools for Underserved Students

Submitted by Pete Frias, Director of Media Communications, PUC National

In late April, Innovate Public Schools, in collaboration with the University of Southern California Sol Price Center for Social Innovation and Rossier School of Education Center for Education Policy, Equity and Governance, recognized 279 schools in their first annual report of Top Los Angeles Public Schools for Underserved Students. Six PUC schools made the list based on their strong results in English and/or math proficiency for low-income Latino students in 2017-18. Please see the list of recognitions below:

Top Public Schools for Low-income Latino Students in English - Elementary
- PUC Milagro Charter School

Top Public Schools for Low-income Latino Students in Math - Elementary
- PUC Milagro Charter School

Top Public Schools for Low-income Latino Students in English - Middle
- PUC Triumph Charter Academy

Top Public High Schools for Low-income Latino Students
- PUC CALS Early College High School
- PUC eCALS
- PUC Lakeview Charter High School
- PUC Triumph Charter High School

The goals of Innovate Public Schools are to recognize schools that are closing achievement gaps for low-income students of color in Los Angeles County, celebrate their accomplishments, and encourage education leaders to learn about what these schools are doing to help their students succeed.

Congratulations to the PUC schools who have received the recognition!

PUC Schools & PUC National: 2019 Health Day + 5K

Submitted by Karren Jackson, Nurse, PUC National

PUC Schools and community members of the surrounding areas in Lake View Terrace came out in full force! This was the 6th Annual PUC Health Fair, but this year, the PUC Health & Wellness Team - comprised of Karren Jackson (Manager of Nursing Services), Jada Kelly (Health & Fitness Manager), Rosa Arrington (Food Service Operations Manager) and Andrea Alvarez (Food Service Operations Assistant) - added the 5K component as a fundraiser for all the PUC Schools and had the location at the Hansen Dam Recreation Park to have more accessibility for the community. The team took over the park and hosted an event that inspired people to MOVE, LAUGH, DANCE and LIVE HEALTHY! And the health exhibit/demos were free to the public!

The PUC Family Health Day was a huge success! There were 100 registrants for the 5K, over $2,000 was raised for PUC Schools, and more than 300 guests were in attendance! The morning started with the sign-up registration for the participants which ranged from die-hard runners/sprinters to a team of families with their little kids in tow. They picked up their shirts, and had complimentary coffee and bagels. Jada started the pre-race warm up alongside Sonia, the Zumba instructor, who pumped up the crowd later with her full energy workout dancing to the beats by DJ Kupah James. As the horn blew at 9:15am for the start of the race, they were off! Others arrived to greet and talk with our participating vendors that focused on health and environmental awareness. There were 23 vendors in total including Western Dental, Valley Presbyterian Hospital, Northeast Valley Health Corporation, Anthem Medi-cal, Health Education Student Organization from CSUN, Treepoople, LA Sanitation, Cuerpaso, 3 Wins Fitness, Peer Health Exchange, Zesa Wellness, Fenton Charter School, face painting by Audrey & Friends, and Montage Insurance Broker who brought in Vital Scans (stroke and thyroid screening) and Farm Fresh to You. Blood pressure screenings were provided by Providence Health & Services and San Fernando Community Health Center provided glucose and oral health screening. PUC National’s own College Success Team and Charter School Advocacy was headed by Nicole Murphy and Amy Villasenor. PUC Clinical Counseling was also there to provide info and resources. As for PUC Schools, Community Charter Elementary School recruited the most participants for the 5K (40 total!) and also represented by having a booth focused on oral health.

CALS Middle School and High School represented the LA Region by having their administrative staff join in on the 5K run. The PUC Parent Center, headed by Stephanie Gomez and Max Valadez, was represented by many PUC parents who were selling delicious snacks and drinks. Award-winning Roni Macaroni food truck and plant-based food truck sensation Lettuce Feast LA were on hand to satisfy the cravings of the runners and guests alike.

Runners/walkers were congratulated by Rosa and Andrea as they crossed the finish line and received the sought-after medal that confirmed their hard work and their generosity for supporting PUC Schools. After the 5K, guests were treated to an amazing lineup of back-to-back performances facilitated by Jada Kelly. There was Zumba with Sonia, LCHS Dance Team, Ballet Folklorico Acoiris, PUC All Stars, Cuerpaso Fitness, and 3 Wins Fitness. To conclude the event, Raffle prizes were also given out to participants of the 5K and the fitness demos. Guests won pack of 4 family tix to Discovery Cube Science Center, AMC Movie Tickets, Target Gift cards, tickets to Macaroni Grill, Baja Fresh, and Buca di Beppo. Thank you to Pete Frias for capturing the wonderful moments at the event!

PUC Schools Stops Sales of Plastic Water Bottles, Takes Step Towards Environmental Sustainability

Submitted by Pete Frias, Director of Media Communications, PUC National

PUC Schools is making a commitment to sustainability by banning all single-use plastic water bottles! All 15 schools are joining the revolution. Thanks to dedicated students, staff and a partnership with Pathwater, we are introducing reusable aluminum bottles and installing filtered hydration refill stations at every campus.
PUC eCALS:
Spring Production of Heathers: The Musical

Submitted by Andrew Jorgensen, Director of Music, PUC eCALS

On April 4th, 5th, and 6th PUC eCALS presented Heathers: The Musical on the Sotomayor Learning Academies Campus. This annual collaboration between the eCALS Music Program and Sotomayor Magnet for Arts and Sciences Theater Program has been a long standing tradition, and is one if the centerpieces of our campus arts programing. Based the classic 80s film, the show tells the story of Veronica Sawyer, a teenage misfit who hustles her way into the most powerful and ruthless clique at Westerburg High: the Heathers.

This year’s show was personally one of my favorites musically. The songs incorporated a wonderful balance of modern musical theater techniques, while lyrically the show was relentless in its comical irreverence and absurdity. Not to mention its relevance and resonance with the teenage high school experience. That being said, it was a step above the musical requirements we’ve asked of our cast and show band in previous years. The stylistic variety along with countless key/tempo changes, odd meters, and rhythmic syncopation would make it a challenge for even professionals to perform (this is also what makes it a great show by the way). Our student’s achievement in preparing this music and their level of professionalism was nothing short of incredible to me. This was especially true when you consider over 50% of them were doing a musical for the first time, and we had an entirely new show band this year!

There was a packed house for each performance, including adding extra rows of seats on opening night! Parents, students, and staff all had incredibly positive reviews and experiences seeing the show, and by all measures, it was a hit! A huge thank you goes out to Ms. Lund for her vocal coaching as well as Mr. Smith for covering the trumpet parts in our show band. We couldn’t have done it without them. This show has left us encouraged, and honestly inspired for all the great work yet to come in future productions.
PUC Sylmar Education Complex:
Spring Production of West Side Story: School Edition

Written by Dr. Jacqueline Elliot, President & CEO, PUC National

On April 25 and 26, a large number of students from PUC Triumph Charter Academy, PUC Triumph Charter High School and PUC Lakeview Charter High School performed alongside Mr. Marco Valdez, Dean of Culture at PUC Triumph Charter High School, in a fantastic production of West Side Story at the PUC Sylmar Education Complex. Many other students also served in roles that included stage crew, technicians, and musicians. Several outstanding PUC arts teachers worked with the cast to create two terrific evenings of performances. These teachers included the production's Director, Charlia Boyer, Musical Director Scott Farr, and choreographers Emily Palacios and Hillary Temple all of whom were supported by Sam Robles, Director of Visual and Performing Arts for PUC schools and the schools’ leaders and staff. Everything from the acting, to the music, to the dancing, to the set and staging were outstanding and was very much enjoyed by not only those who created and participated in the production but also by those in the audiences who attended.
Dr. Seuss Day, held annually on March 2nd, is a holiday that celebrates the birthday of Theodor Seuss Geisel also known by the pen name of Dr. Seuss. The National Education Association advocated for a day to celebrate reading across the United States.

On March 1, 2019, PCCES celebrated Dr. Seuss Day with the help of some very special friends. Our students were beyond excited. Not only did The Cat in Hat make a special appearance, but he also brought some good friends along! Dr. Elliott, Ms. Abich, Ms. Biddle, Mr. Estrada, Ms. Robinson, Mr. Valdez, and Mrs. Perez joined us to read their favorite Dr. Seuss book to our students. After reading to our students, our leaders were able to get to know our students. Our young scholars were delighted to see the PUC leaders step into the World of Dr. Seuss! We are so grateful to everyone who was able to participate and make our Dr. Seuss Day one to remember!
On Thursday, April 25, PUC Community Charter Elementary School held its third annual Arts & Crafts Spring Family Night! To start out the evening, parents participated in an important presentation by Dr. Elliot on the topic of charter school advocacy. In addition to taking on the feeling of an open house, after the presentation, students and their families gathered in their classrooms where they collaboratively created a craft together to take home with them. By bringing a fun activity that children can do alongside their parent, this evening creates strong school culture where the home, family and school are bridged together. Each classroom had a different craft project, and the process of parent and child creating together was priceless! Parents and students also toured the variety of art projects and classwork in their classrooms, as well as visiting the following grade level in order to get a small taste of what's ahead. They may have even met their next teacher! To add to the relaxed, yet familial feel, music and tacos were a great addition to an evening filled with creativity and family.
PUC Lakeview Charter High School: Lions in Europe!

Submitted by Jessey Duran, Inclusion Specialist, PUC Lakeview Charter High School

Over spring break, Lakeview Charter High School seniors had the opportunity to visit 3 European capitals – Rome, Paris and Madrid! Highlights of our trip included the opportunity see Michelangelo’s artwork at the Vatican and Sistine Chapel. We took advantage of every opportunity to taste the delicious Italian gelato! Students enthusiastically recalled and expanded upon the content they learned from Ms. Terrebonne and Mr. Fong’s history classes when visiting the Palace of Versailles. Our students wandered through the exhibits of world class museums including the Louvre in Paris and the Prado in Madrid. They were thrilled to meet the Mona Lisa face-to-face!

We look forward to continuing the tradition of offering these unforgettable international senior trips every year. These opportunities for travel allow our students to become immersed in new cultures, languages, and push students out of their comfort zone to learn lasting academic and personal life lessons. #LionsInEurope
PUC Triumph Charter High School: Trip to Europe

Submitted by Emily Biddle, Principal, PUC Triumph Charter High School
Written by Sooni Livingston, Teacher, PUC Triumph Charter High School

The class of 2019 senior students, at Triumph Charter High School, embarked on a journey this Spring break that will forever change their lives! With 18 students, 2 parents, and 3 teachers, we traveled over 15,000 miles in the course of 10 days. We ventured out to Paris where we learned about European customs and culture and how we, too, can fit in with those who speak differently from ourselves and not be intimidated by those who do not look like us. We learned about historical art pieces and ate foods that were very different from what we eat here in the U.S. We learned quickly how to better manage our money and monitor our spending. We also learned how to protect ourselves and look out for our friends whenever something or someone seemed “fishy”. From Paris, we traveled to Spain where the kids found more enjoyment in Barcelona and Madrid. From private cooking classes in Barcelona to Bike rides along the Mediterranean, it was a trip that can never be forgotten. Many friendships were made, experiences had, and smiles to last a life time. I believe that this was the journey that will spark travel in our students forever! Vale? Vale!!
PUC Community Charter Early College High School: A Season That Made History

Submitted by David Rice, Basketball Coach & Long-Term Substitute, PUC Community Charter Early College High School

The Community Charter Early College High School boys basketball program had some success at its inception with three twenty plus win seasons. The program though went through a rough stretch from 2013-2015 winning only three games in three seasons including going winless in the 2014-2015 season. In the fall of 2015 a special class of freshman entered the halls of CCECHS after completing middle school next door at CCMS. This class of freshman had five young men who at the time never knew what they could become, they only had hopes and dreams at competing at a high level. The bond that grew between these five young men would be the reason this group would make history by the time they were seniors.

The class included now seniors Brandon Chavarria, Sebastian Sandoval, Steven Jones, Kevin Sandoval, and Alex Tarax. Due to some immaturity and self-professed “laziness” Chavarria and Tarax had to miss the first half of their freshman year, along with junior Monya Ward due to ineligibility because of poor grades.

This forced Kevin Sandoval, and Sebastian Sandoval into starting roles from the get go. They were not ready for such a responsibility, but they didn’t complain and played hard making their share of mistakes, but not giving up in the process. When Chavarria, Tarax, and Ward returned after Christmas the Titans were 1-7.

“Although it was tough for us, it was honestly the best thing for us because it gave us valuable experience that would help us the next four years here,” Sebastian Sandoval said.

The additions to the team did not have immediate success as they lost three of the first four games after the break. But slowly this group of freshmen started stepping up the Titans closed out the season winning three of their last four games including a memorable senior victory over rival Triumph which saw senior captain David Aparicio foul out at the end of the third quarter forcing Sebastian Sandoval to have to step up in crunch time. He did just that as he and fellow freshman Brandon Chavarria gave us a little taste about what could be expected of them over the next four years.

Recently, Los Angeles Councilwoman Monica Rodriguez hosted a Principal’s Luncheon and round table to express her gratitude to the principals and school administrators who work tirelessly to run their schools, mentor and shape our students every day. This was a unique event that all attendees got to interact with neighboring school administrators, exchange ideas and share best practices. Nearly 100 administrators joined Mrs. Rodriguez from across the 7th Council District and shared challenges and opportunities faced around their schools -- infrastructure, public safety, and access to resources for our students. Mrs. Rodriguez got the chance to sit at every table, connect with all school administrators and hear more about their challenges and successes. Special thanks to the LAPD Mission and Foothill Captains for joining as well to share more about our continued public safety efforts near our schools. We are very hopeful and optimistic of the partnerships with our community partners.

PUC Alumni Spotlight Series

ITHZEL SANDOVAL
PUC CALS Early College High School, ‘18
UCLA, Class of 2022

The PUC Alumni Spotlight Series showcases and recognizes outstanding PUC high school Alumni for their academic and professional achievements, and their continuation of the PUC Commitments. Through this series we will explore and regularly share the diverse accomplishments of our PUC high school graduates.

Introduction
Thank you to Ithzel; she volunteered to give a tour of UCLA for CCECHS Juniors on April 24, 2019. She took time out of her busy class schedule to help our students and we are very grateful!

Why She Volunteered
I volunteered to be a tour guide because I remember taking a tour here at UCLA myself as a fifth grader. The tour guide was a white female who despite her kindness and warming welcome did not reflect myself or my other classmates. I find it crucial coming from PUC schools with a predominantly Latinx community that we are able to see ourselves reflected in institutions like UCLA. I was excited to help guide the UCLA campus tour and share my experiences from the perspective of a PUC Alumni.

A Commitment to Community and Education
I am double majoring in Sociology and Spanish with a minor in Education Studies. I tutor algebra in LEAD at UCLA which is a club that supports high school students with STEM. We provide the one-on-one experience after school where there tends to be 30 kids and only 1 teacher. I am also apart of Rotaract at UCLA which centers its mission on community service. There are weekly community service events that include reading to kids, cleaning up the beach, feeding the homeless and many more. I also have a part-time job with UCLA Rooms Division, which allows me to gain housing priority and job experience.

Eyes on the Future
I intend on pursuing education in the future. More specifically, return to charter schools and become an educator. I love to work with children and for future projects; here at UCLA, I will continue doing tutoring and mentorship programs that enhance my hands-on experience. Once I graduate, I plan to fulfill one of our PUC promises in giving back to the community and returning as a PUC educator.

PUC Shout Outs
Coming from PUC CALS Early College High, I was beyond grateful for my teachers who helped me get here! My history teacher Mr. Boykins, a UCLA alumni himself, who pushed me to exceed my limits. My teachers Ms. Flores and Ms. Lopez who believed in me throughout high school; and all of the amazing teachers I’ve had since Milagro to CALS Middle and High School. I am beyond grateful for everyone and they are truly my inspiration to become an educator in hopes of increasing college readiness and attendance.
